

external document with shitty file name that no one can comprehend but can be replaced with a meaningful name to be displayed within the assistant